

2012 OVC Mass Violence & Emergency National Training Conference “Improving Readiness to Assist Victims”

Registration is Now Open!

Join us in Jacksonville, Florida - January 31 - February 2, 2012

Scholarships Available!

Scholarships are available to a limited number of stakeholder teams.

To learn more about the conference, registration and eligibility requirements for scholarships, please go to:

www.OVC2012.org

This 3-day conference will bring together multidisciplinary stakeholder teams, including police, fire and rescue, investigators, medical providers, prosecutors, victim service professionals, policy-makers, faith communities, and other allied professionals to share their experiences and knowledge about how to respond to victims/survivors and communities.

Don't Miss This Conference

- More than 50 lecture sessions
- Learn from experts in the field
- Hear from experienced keynote speakers
- Participate in interactive panel discussions

The networking that takes place both within and outside our planned agenda provides an opportunity for you to establish the personal relationships necessary for a successful initiative. This conference will provide an unrivaled opportunity to further your education and enhance your skills, with the common goal of planning for and providing victim assistance in incidents of mass casualties.

Topics

- How to Prepare a Long-Term Community Recovery Plan
- Addressing Victim Needs in Disaster Situations
- Understanding Victim/Family/Survivor Rights
- How to Properly Deliver a Death Notification
- Safeguarding the Vulnerable/At Risk Population
- Managing Victim Identification and Personal Effects - Best Practice
- Top 10 Lessons Learned
....and much, much more!

